RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL.

Lowell Redden who for the past two months has been in a hospital in Phoenix returned to his home here yesterday. He will remain here for about a week and then with his wife will go to Prescott and stay until the cool weather begins. It will be remembered by the majority of the readers that Mr. Redden was taken ill with typhoid fever about three months ago and was getting along nicely and had a relapse, his intestines about this time gave way at different places, an operation was performed and these sewed up and for several days his life hung in the balance the doctors saying that he had one chance in a thousand. He was then taken to the hospital where he could be handled to medical aid. He is getting along nicely now and it is hoped by his many friends that he will speedily recover and regain his lost strength.

In every home where there is a baby there should also be a bottle of McGEE'S BABY ELIXIR. It may be needed at any time to correct sour stomach, wind, colic, diarrhoea or summer complaint. It is a wholesome remedy, contains no opium, morphine or injurious drug of any kind. Price 25c and 50c per bottle. Sold by Elvey & Hulet.

REPORTED BETTER.

James Gilliland was taken seriously ill Friday while in town and for some time he was in a serious condition, he was taken to the home of Rev. and Mrs. Sayler and recovered to such an extent that he was taken to his home in the country late in the evening. For several days he had been suffering with asthma, and Friday morning he with his wife came to town early to consult medical aid, and in a short time he suddenly became worse. At the last report received he was getting along nicely.

Sallow complexion comes from bilious impurities in the blood and the fault lies with the liver and bowels—they are torpid. The medicine that gives results in such cases is HERBINE. It is a fine liver stimulant and bowel regulator. Price 50c. Sold by Elvey & Hulet.

MESA

SURPRISED THE LADY.

The ladies of Mesquite Grove No. 4, Woodman Circle, W. O. W., very cleverly worked a surprise on Mrs. B. G. Lyda last meeting for the reason that the family were leaving for San Francisco for the purpose of making their home there. It was the intention to give the lady a good send-off, for her faithful service as a lodge member and officer. As soon as it was learned that Mr. and Mrs. Lyda would leave Mesa last evening, the ladies got busy and gathered at the home of Mrs. Clara Pomeroy at 8 o'clock Friday night. From there they went to the Lyda home on South Center street, and surprised Mr. and Mrs. Lyda crating chickens for delivery to J. D. Robertson, to whom they had been sold. When the party appeared, Mr. Lyda exclaimed: "Here comes a surprise; what a lot of women." The ladies captured their victims, and without waiting for the lady to change her dress escorted the couple to the Pomeroy residence. After an hour of social converse, Mrs. Lyda was called into the parlor and while the ladies formed a circle around her, Mrs. J. D. Robertson, as spokesman, delivered a short address, telling the retiring officer how much the lodge thought of her, the sorrow of the members at losing her services and companionship, and extending best wishes for the family in their new home. When the speaker had worked the audience up to the point of tears she presented Mrs. Lyda with a handsome sterling silver purse. "We present this to show our appreciation for your work in the lodge and as a token of fraternal love. In this purse you will find a receptacle for money—may it ever remain filled; a place for your calling cards—may we in future days receive one at your hands; a tablet on which to note our addresses and a pencil which we hope you will use in writing to each of us, there is a small mirror, which will permit you to see if your hat is on straight. Mrs. Lyda, with tearful eyes and a faltering voice, made a neat response; the tension was broken and the remainder of the evening was one of jollity, closing by a double round of ice cream and Nabisco's. There were twenty-five present, all ladies except Uncle Billy Newell, Arthur Jones, J. L. Johnson, Mr. Lyda and the writer.

BOUND OVER.

Frank Fields, the colored man who embezzled a bicycle from Richards and Dodson, Mesa, on July 11th, was brought up from Phoenix yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Jeff Adams, and arraigned in Justice Irwin's court on a charge of embezzlement. Only a couple of witnesses were examined, Fields admitting the charge of renting the wheels and then selling it to a gentleman in Phoenix. His excuse was that he wanted to send his wife out of the valley and sold the wheel to raise money for that purpose, intending to buy the wheel back when he got work and earned the money. The wheel was identified by Mr. Richards, it having the letters R. & D. branded on it in two places. After selling the wheel, Fields went to Yuma and was there when apprehended.

Frank Fields was formerly a prizefighter and entered the ring as a middle weight on many occasions in the northern states. While in Mesa he was the "shine" at the Palace barber shop.

SURPRISED MRS. DONALDSON.

W. M. Newell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Jones and a few other relatives, made a late call on Mr. and Mrs. E. G. W. Donaldson, Thursday night. It was the occasion of Mrs. Donaldson's birthday, but the hour was so late that she was not looking for visitors. After several alarms had been sounded, the family woke up and the late party proved to be a very pleasant family reunion.

OFF FOR THE COAST.

Dr. E. W. Wilbur, who was reported quite ill on Friday morning, was sufficiently recovered yesterday afternoon to start for Redondo, California, where he has a summer home. In addition to Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. George Dorman left with the intention of remaining a month or six weeks at the seaside.

A THIRTY-FIVE DEGREE DROP.

The thermometer at mid-afternoon on Friday stood at 100 degrees in the shade but early evening began falling and during the night dropped to 65 degrees. The change in temperature caused a hustling for more clothing before bedtime and for extra covers when retiring for the night. Old-timers say that they never saw such cool nights in the valley during early August as prevail here this year. The weather man's report follows:
Maximum temperature ..... 100
Minimum ..... 65
Mean ..... 83
Character of day, clear.
Direction of wind, southwest.
Forecast, fair.

WILL GO TO FRISCO.

W. Al McDonald, real estate baron and artist of local fame and growing reputation, left last evening for Prescott, where he will pick up Mrs. McDonald, who has been there for a few weeks past, and the couple will go to San Francisco for a stay of uncertain duration.

WILL REMAIN IN MESA.

T. J. Woods, who makes harness and such like things for the Allison Davis Hardware company, says he came close to leaving Mesa for good; this is figurative language, for he would have returned. At any rate, he will not leave yet awhile. Mrs. Wood's health is such that the doctor advised a change of climate, and Mr. Woods had intended starting for his old home in Nebraska next week. As it is, Mrs. Woods concluded to accompany her sister, Mrs. Chipperfield to San Diego and remain a few months. They went to Phoenix last evening and will get away from the capital today. Mrs. Woods spent a short time at San Diego last season and enjoyed good health while there.

The Best Advertisement for Tuberclecide Are Those Who Have Used It.

Monrovia, California, Feb. 15th, 1911.

Tuberclecide Company of Arizona,
407-8 National Bank of Arizona Building,
Phoenix, Arizona.

Gentlemen:—

I take the liberty and the pleasure of adding my mite to the ever increasing volume of testimony in favor of the TUBERCLECID treatment for Consumption; it is my hope that all who read this letter and who may be suffering from lung trouble or who have dear ones afflicted with the dread disease will at once investigate the merits of the treatment and begin its use without delay. For this reason I hope that you will make this letter public.

I was taken sick in 1909 and my physician in Hanford, Cal., pronounced my case Tuberculosis, and a bacterologist's test showed many Tubercle Bacilli present in my sputum. I had fever, night sweats, hemorrhages and a constantly failing appetite; my weight was reduced to 105 pounds. I was informed by my physician that I could not hope to live over one year and that no medicine or physician on earth could do me any good.

Early in 1910 an examination revealed the fact that both my lungs were greatly affected and I then tried the Chinese Doctors in Los Angeles, Cal., but without relief. I then came to Monrovia, California, where I met Mr. Francis Marshall Elliott, the well known lawyer and magazine writer, who had been a victim of Tuberculosis for 10 years; Mr. Elliott requested me to try the TUBERCLECID treatment as that remedy had saved his life when the best known physicians and lung specialists on the Pacific Coast had pronounced his case hopeless and had given him from 60 to 90 days to live.

As Mr. Elliott was my near neighbor I had more confidence in him than I had in the treatment and on the 20th of October, 1910, I commenced the use of TUBERCLECID. Today, one week less than four months after commencing the use of the TUBERCLECID treatment, my cough is gone, also my fever and every symptom of the disease has entirely disappeared. I have regained my normal weight of 122 pounds, and I am doing my own housework and I feel as well as I ever did in my life. Bacterologists' tests by the City Bacteriologist of the City of Los Angeles shows "no tubercle bacilli" in my system. My recovery I consider little short of a miracle and I owe my life to TUBERCLECID.

Very sincerely yours,

MRS. JOHN BASSETT,
429 East Wild Rose Street.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Miss Elsie Jones will leave next week for her summer vacation on the coast.
L. W. Stillwell had business in the capital yesterday.

Lou Trimble was in the house-moving business yesterday.

The tent house recently occupied by L. A. Bridwell and family has been moved from the lot owned by Mrs. Spragg to the one belonging to the Relief Society of the church of Latter-day Saints.

M. R. Bowen has a proposition to go to New Mexico to investigate an oil proposition on land owned by a Mesa gentleman. He is to decide today. It is an engineer's job.

Some of the boys have a new excuse for getting too much booze. They say they go to Phoenix, take a few drinks, but not enough to get themselves jagged; returning to Mesa they mix 2 percent with the real booze they drank in the capital saloons, and it's all off. That is, their friends have to load them in wagons and haul them home. Even a poor excuse sometimes answers.

Misses Jennie Brundage and Esther Peterson are reported on the sick list, but are said to be not seriously ill.

Miss Willie Bates is the guest of Miss Minal Hawley at Higley station, and will remain over Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Phillips is announced as the minister in charge for this evening's services at the Christian church.

Dr. Brack left last evening for the coast, where he will join Mrs. Brack and Miss Lelan Brack. After a short vacation, the family will return to Mesa. Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Hughes will occupy Dr. Brack's residence during his absence.

Mrs. C. E. Angulo is visiting on the coast.

Berkley Traxler is reported as recovering from a spell of sickness.

J. F. Zinkle from Kansas City, Mo., is registered at the Alhambra.

A. Fraire resides nearly five miles on the desert mesa, says it is several degrees colder there than in Mesa.

E. A. Ewing, editor of the Free Press brought Mrs. Ewing to Mesa this morning and installed her in the Pomeroy house on west first avenue, vacated by A. F. Morris.

"Uncle" Rial Morse of Mesa is the owner of a section of land in the new Mexico oil regions, and is beginning to think he has something that will produce the coin.

Dan Kleinmann put a fine Maltese jack up at auction yesterday afternoon.

PATERNALISM LOSING ITS TERROR.

In our civic development we have to deal with much for which there was no occasion in years gone by.

Under existing conditions, chiefly the creation of concentrated wealth, public duty has become greatly enlarged. No member of society is justified in wrapping himself in the middle of selfishness. I make bold to declare that society is not properly ordered or constituted when it permits the weak and infirm to hunger and starve while others have an abundance and revel in luxury. In saying this I do not want to be understood as holding that society owes the loafer, the vagabond or the drunkard a living, but I do contend that it owes it to itself that proper ways be found to keep surveillance over them with a view to their reformation and ultimate self-sustaining. The cry of paternalism no longer has the terror for me it once had. With changed conditions come new obligations necessarily followed by the enlargement of the exercise of government power.—South Bend (Ind.) Times.

AND THE WOMAN KNEW.

"It's the mice," said the woman who had returned from an inspection of the renting agent's choicest flats.

"The place must be fairly alive with them. I never could stand mice."

In vain did the agent protest that mice could not be hired to live in such immaculate apartments as his. The woman cut short his protestations with a sweetly incredulous smile.

"Don't tell me that," she said. "If the neighborhood isn't alive with them, why does the hardware dealer on the corner keep all those mousetraps in the window? That is an unflattering sign. I have lived in flats for twenty years, and have learned that if the stores in a neighborhood make a big display of mousetraps to catch. So often have I had that lesson hammered home that I study the mousetrap situation before signing a lease."

"Maybe that is the way those 20-odd other women who scorned my flats found out they were there," mused the agent.

Then, before showing the flats again he persuaded the dealer to remove his mousetraps to a less conspicuous place.—New York Times.
